Board Delays S. F. Airport Garbage Plans

Metropolis Plea Says Air Field's Future Is at Stake

San Francisco must wait at least two weeks before it can acquire a permit to dump garbage at Mills Field, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors had decided today, while granting a temporary permit to another applicant.

Clyde Healy, assistant San Francisco engineer, urged the immediate granting of the permit for the Mills Field dump on the ground that unless San Francisco can fill in the submerged lands and build longer runways, the government will order large commercial planes to use another airport.

Healy told the board that the garbage will be rbought down from San Francisco in covered garbage will be brought down tidelands, and will be covered by four feet of dredged bay material.

He declared that there would be no odor, flies, insects or rodents under the method.

E. G. Cahill, manager of San Francisco's public utilities, informed the board in the written application that San Francisco has expended $1,000,000 at the airport, and has obligated itself to spend another $600,000.

The permit is asked for 25 years, and would provide for the dumping of 750 tons of garbage at the San Bruno field.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, in whose district the dump would be situated, asked that it be laid over for two weeks. Supervisor Rosalie Brown, San Mateo, also concerned with the nearness to her district, seconded the motion.

The application of Louis Tournahu, who holds the San Bruno garbage disposal franchise, was granted on a temporary basis of 30 days.

Meanwhile, the board will hold a public hearing on the question at the courthouse on November 6.

Dr. Harold E. Morrison, San Mateo county health officer, approved the Tournahu permit as a temporary means of solving the San Bruno garbage problem. He set a limit of 90 days under which the dumping should be allowed, saying that other means for disposal must be found.

Tournahu, who was recently cited for violating the county garbage ordinance, will dispose of the garbage on the Arata place in Lawndale.

Fox in Return From Willows Hunting Trip

Claude Fox, short story writer for this paper, returned recently from a month's visit with his old time hunting companion, George Genochio, who with his estimable wife have for the past five years been in charge of the Ted Lowe private duck preserve near Willows, county seat of Glenn county.

Fox reports having had a delightful time and while the climate was not conducive to foot racing or playing baseball, dove and jack rabbit hunting, together with fishing for striped bass in the Sacramento river, furnished plenty of sport for the two who have been pals for 40 years. For three weeks the thermometer ranged from 97 to 113 degrees, so if the readers of this article though it was warm here during the early part of August, Fox is willing to make an affidavit that you were slightly mistaken.

The vicinity of Willows abounds in wild game, deer, pheasants, rabbits, doves, wild duck and geese. The visitor and his host accompanied Mr. Lowe and a party of friends on a dove hunt and secured 125 in a comparatively short time. Fox speaks very highly of Mr. Lowe, his wife and their friends who accompanied them on the hunt as being kindly, hospitable people who, while they derived great pleasure in sport, saw to it that their guests did likewise.

Little Billy Genochio, son of George and his wife, who is now 9 years old and one of the brightest pupils in the grammar school, is destined to follow in the footsteps of his father and become one of the crack wing shots of the state. He already knows more about wild ducks and geese than many men who have hunted for years.

While Mr. and Mrs. Genochio have made a large circle of friends during their sojourn in Willows, they still have in this city, a great many acquaintances whose friendship will not be effaced by time and who all wish them success in their northern home.

$11,000 ROAD MACHINERY BIDS CALLED BY COUNTY

Over the opposition of Supervisor Albert Witt of Colma, the board of supervisors today had instructed County Purchasing Agent Ernest Werder to invite sealed proposals for the purchase of $11,050 worth of new road machinery.

County Surveyor James S. James made an appeal for the equipment at Monday afternoon's board meeting.

When Supervisor Witt objected, James declared himself "tired of personalities." Witt, James declared, had done everything he could to block the engineering department because of the supervisor's "dislike" of him.

District Attorney Edmund Scott was asked as to the legality of the purchase in view of the pending supreme court action to test the supervisors' right to surrender their road control to James.

Scott said as long as the purchases are made as capital expenditures regularly provided for, that there could be no question of the board's right to buy the equipment.

The machinery asked by James included three small dump trucks, one motor grader and one bulldozer attachment.

Upon motion of Supervisor Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, and second of Supervisor Rosalie Brown, San Mateo, Werder was authorized to buy the equipment. Supervisor Witt's objection prevailed to the last. He cast his vote against the purchases.

Objects to Claims

Supervisor Witt also voiced his objections to paying two claims for $581 presented by James and County Manager Walter Kellogg for right of way work done by C. I. Haley and F. H. Somers on the Daly City widening project.

Witt informed the board that he had warned Joseph J. Phillips, San Francisco right of way agent, that he would not honor any claims after $12,500 had been paid out for this work.

The supervisor said that San Francisco was not keeping faith on the project. Witt declared that half of the county's $25,000 was to go into the actual improvements and not all of it was to go to rights of way.

The board agreed to lay the claims over until November 6.

To Improve Street

The board instructed Engineer James to investigate the petition of San Mateo drive property owners in Menlo Park that that thoroughfare be improved by use of county machinery.

Request for the loan of the equipment was made by the city of Menlo Park, which has agreed to help the property owners purchase the necessary materials.

Hearing on the plea of Menlo Heights property owners to abandon a number of streets was set by the board for November 16 on petition of Attorney Elinor Falvey. The abandonment was also referred to the county planning commission.

La Honda Deeds

Additional deeds covering seven lots on the La Honda widening project were accepted by the board, which agreed to pay $1000 to Helen Hughes, owner.

The board agreed to place a stop sign on the Alameda de las Pulgas and Woodside road.

The supervisors also agreed to expend $450 from the unbudgeted reserve to pay the expenses of a federal employment office at San Mateo.

Peninsula Traffic Police Sent to Strike-Torn Area

Capt. Paul Perussina of the state highway patrol in Redwood City today received orders from Sacramento to dispatch two patrolmen to the South San Joaquin valley farm strike area immediately.

Other members of the San Mateo county patrol were held in readiness for further orders.

State Officers Lloyd Minehan and John Hanlon of this county left this morning for Bakersfield, where state officers are being mobilized to stand guard in the trouble between farm workers and ranch owners. The farm dispute has already cost the lives of four persons and injury to a score of others.

Situation Dangerous

Imprisonment of 28 men in the San Joaquin cotton-growing area presented a situation today so potentially dangerous that observers said it may touch off fresh rioting in the cotton pickers' strike in which three men have been killed.

Reports of new disturbances in the strike-torn section were heard as hundreds of strikers moved toward Visalia, place of imprisonment of vigilantes accused of murder, and of strike pickets. Pat Chambers, strike leader, also was under arrest.

Peace authorities concentrated their forces at Visalia, fearful of attempts to free the jailed pickets. Rancher vigilantes also advanced toward the town, ready to defend their 10 comrades.

Governor Rolph advised the growers to submit to arbitration. His ultimatum met with little response. Rolph made no move toward intervention by state military forces. He was confident local authorities could handle the situation. He was to hear a strikers' committee today.

State relief officials instructed local committees not to discriminate against strikers seeking food. Ranchers were said to be planning to starve their workmen into submission.

Timothy Reardon, state industrial relations director, called on both sides in the strike "to throw down their arms."

Matson Boat Unloaded

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 (UP)—Strike breakers took a hand in the longshoremen's strike here today when 30 non-union workers appeared on the docks and moved cargoes from the Matson liner Lurline, which arrived from Honolulu.

Approximately 300 strikers converged at the pier as an automobile containing the strike breakers drew up to the docked vessel. The strikers booed, but were held in check by mounted police and plain clothesmen.

Jurors Advise Against Secret Board Meetings

There is nothing "sinful" in secret meetings by the board of supervisors, the grand jury reported Tuesday, but the officials were advised against such meetings in the future.

The jury declared that it carried out Superior Judge Franklin Swart's advice and investigated a meeting of the board on June 21 at the county poor farm.

"From the testimony," the jury says, "it was obvious that an attempt was made, by appointing an engineer, to maintain the old order of things, particularly in preserving for the supervisors their respective road districts."

"This would have been in direct violation of one of the mandates of the charter, and would have defeated the wish and desire of the voters," the jury said.

"While no apparent harm has yet come to the county through such procedure," the jury writes, "we believe that all questions of such importance wherein the best interests of the county are concerned should be discussed and determined at the proper place where regular open meetings of the supervisors are held."

Sequoia Campus Park Wins $1200 For Shrubbery

Planting of shrubs and trees in the new Sequoia Campus Park in Redwood City to the extent of $1,200 had been approved by the board of supervisors today as an unemployment measure. Relief projects totaling $5,325 were approved.

The Sequoia project was submitted to the supervisors by City Manager E. A. Rolison of Redwood City, and had the approval of the citizens' relief committee.

Expenditure of $1,800 for the further improvement of Ralston boulevard in Belmont was also approved by the board. The money will be used for a 12-inch concrete storm drain.

Four Suffer Hurts In Bayshore Wreck

Cars driven by Leo Scardigli, 23, 3020 Fillmore street, San Francisco, and Frederick Huelter, 68, of Los Gatos, collided head-on two miles south of Redwood City on the Bayshore highway Sunday. With Scardigli were B. P. Foppiano, 20, 539 Evergreen street, Daly City, and A. C. Forestierri, 23, 1242 Revere avenue, San Francisco. All were treated for cuts and bruises.

Lyons Insists On Conviction In Auto Deaths

Woman Driver Tells Court Her Husband Was at Wheel

Trial of Mrs. Gladys Sisevich, 35, wife of a San Mateo cement contractor, is scheduled to continue in the superior court in Redwood City before Judge Franklin Swart Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. She is charged with manslaughter on two counts involving the death on July 20 of Mrs. Addalyne Lyons and her 8 months old baby, Nancy.

It is anticipated the case will go to the jury during the afternoon.

Two sensational events climaxed the second day of the trial Wednesday afternoon. During an intermission E. W. Lyons, who lost his wife and baby in the crash at Bayshore highway and University drive, East Palo Alto, stepped to the bench.

"Are we going to get a conviction in this case?" he asked Judge Swart.

"That is up to the jury."

Tears streamed down the man's face. He replied:

"Well, if they don't convict her, then it's my turn."

The statement was construed as a veiled threat. Lyons is the complaining witness.

When Mrs. Sisevich took the stand in her own defense she told the court her husband, not she, was the driver of the death car. The court intervened.

"Am I to understand that as you got out of the car you and your husband agreed you were driving the car?" Judge Swart asked.

"Yes," she said.

When Reed Clark, counsel for the defense, objected, Judge Swart replied that the question might prove material evidence as to the possibility of a criminal conspiracy to obstruct justice.

He continued: "If it is a fact that she was not the driver of the car, why had she not advised authorities?"

Nick Sisevich, the defendant's husband, substantiated his wife's statement when he preceded her to the stand. He told the court he was driving the car, dropped a cigaret lighter on the floor, reached to get it and heard a thud.

Testimony presented earlier in the day indicated Mrs. Sisevich told officers she was the driver on the day following the tragedy. It was also brought out that she drank two small glasses of wine at meal time, five hours before the crash.

Louis Eaton Succumbs to Crash Hurts

Funeral rites for Louis R. Eaton, prominent Redwood City insurance man, will be held at the chapel of N. Gray and Company, 1545 Divisadero street, San Francisco, Thursday at 2 p. m.

Eaton, whose home was at 954 Arlington avenue in this city, died from accident injuries Monday night at a South San Francisco hospital. He incurred a fractured skull, fractured ribs, fractured arm and laceration of the forehead in a head-on collision near the San Francisco airport Sunday night.

His widow, Mrs. Guerney Eaton, and daughter, Marjorie, 10, were critically injured in the same crash. Both incurred head injuries and are at a South San Francisco hospital The Eatons were injured when the car which Eaton was driving was struck by a car operated by Jake Kays, 24, 851 Divisadero street, San Francisco. Physicians give the latter little chance for recovery. If he survives he faces charges of manslaughter.

Eaton was a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He came to California 30 years ago and had made his home here for seven years. Besides hiswidow, daughter, and son, Louis, a University of California student, he leaves his mother, Mrs. L. H. Eaton, of San Mateo.

Girl Hurt Falling Out of Car at S. M.

SAN MATEO, Oct. 9.—Miss Bonnie Melbourne, 19, San Francisco, opened the door of an automobile in which she was riding to dispose of a cigarette, and fell out, Larry Maxwell, driver, told officers here today.

Miss Melbourne was brought to a hospital, where physicians said she had a possible skull fracture.

Scottish Dog Boasts Highly Of Operation

"Lady Dunbar of Bedford," pedigreed Scottish terrier belonging to G. L. Bedbury, 278 Fulton street, has something "ritzy" to talk about when she says to her canine companions, "Let me tell you about my operation."

She is the mother of three fine Scotty pups who were ushered into the world by means of a Caesarian operation performed by Dr. J. K. Perry of Beresford.

"Operations on most dogs are of the common kind and few can boast of a real honest-to-goodness Caesarian," Lady Dunbar will tell you. "Besides, aren't those knobby-kneed pups something to be proud of?" she asks.

Two Suicides During Night Are Recorded

Man Picks Out Own Coffin Before Taking Life

Two suicide notes, one to Dr. J. C. McGovern, San Mateo coroner, and the other to "To whom it may concern," today explained the death of Frank E. Hoyt, 59, former wealthy Toledo, O., realtor, who Monday took his own life in the garage of a cabin at the George Alpers' resort near King's mountain.

Heart trouble, aggravated by grief over the death of his wife a year ago, caused Hoyt to commit suicide, the notes revealed. The notes were found by George Alpers, owner of the resort, who said Hoyt had been living there at intervals for the last few months.

Carbon monoxide fumes from Hoyt's car were used to cause his death. A length of hose from the exhaust pipe into the closed car had been arranged by the man. The motor of the car was still running.

That Hoyt had arranged and paid for his own funeral was the startling disclosure hinted by the notes. Six weeks ago the former Ohio man planned his own rites with William F. Crosby, Burlingame mortician.

When Hoyt entered Crosby's place at that time the proprietor became alarmed.

"You're not planning anything desperate?" he asked.

"Oh, no," Hoyt explained. "But I have a bad heart. I like your place, and I want to make the arrangements."

Plans for a private funeral and cremation were made at that time. Notes disposed of personal property and effects.

Hoyt said:

"I am alone in the world. Sixty years old and in poor health. I have disposed of my effects. Leave no will. After 19 centuries of civilization I do not feel proud of the present world and have lost all interest in it. No one will make any inquiry concerning me, but acquaintances back East will eventually learn of my decease. Am hoping the State of California's big western heart will name my passing as due to a heart attack."

Deputy Coroner John Layng said the law made the request impossible.

Suicide Puzzles

San Mateo county officers were today puzzled over the motive for the suicide of Pacifico Lombardi, 74, retired cattleman. Lombardi shot himself through the head on Tuesday at his home on Fifteenth avenue in North Fair Oaks, near here.

No clues were found as to the reason for his action. The remains were removed to the Layng and Tinney Funeral Home, Redwood City, but arrangements have not been completed for services.

Lombardi leaves relatives in San Bruno.

Riding Master Clear In Non-Support Case

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt late yesterday acquitted Don Funge, Vallejo riding academy manager, of the charge of failure to provide for two minor children. Funge's former wife filed the complaint.

The defendant told the court that although he has been working he has had no income. Funge was at one time a candidate for sheriff in San Mateo county.

ROSEGRANT DECREE

Mrs. Helen Rosegrant today won an interlocutory decree of divorce from Charles Rosegrant on the ground of cruelty, following a hearing before Superior Judge Franklin Swart.

Scott Studies Lawful Means To End Racing

Counsellor Prepares To Act Under Jury Defy

District Attorney Edmund Scott spent the Columbus Day holiday today in a perusal of law books to determine what legal means exist for him to proceed with the carrying out of the San Mateo County Grand Jury "defy" that he close the Baden Kennel Club until the legality or illegality of the option system has been settled in the courts.

Foreman Martin Poss of the grand jury conferred with Scott here yesterday afternoon and declared themselves willing to "go as far as legally possible" to meet the wishes of Superior Judge Franklin Swart that the track be shut down.

The jury believed that five days was the limit of time which ought to be allowed for Scott to secure a restraining order in the courts.

"The grand jury will take action on its own initiative if the district attorney does not act within that time," Poss deciared. The jury action would be in the nature of indictments against the officials of the track.

Scott expressed a belief that if the jury felt that the evidence warrants securing indictments that the jury should vote them.

The disrict attorney was not certain that he could enjoin the Baden club. He said as far as the law is concerned the track was apparently a legally-going business and that it was questionable whether he could step in and put a stop to it.

Constable Silvio Landini of Colma, who raided the track previously and who has threatened to do it again, said he fears violence will result when he makes his new raids.

Prior to the grand jury's ultimatum, Landini had declared his intention of continuing with his raids until the track was forced to close. But yesterday he said that, in view of the jury's attitude, he would wait the five-day period out before taking further steps.

"But," he added, "if neither Scott nor the jury have acted by the first of next week, I'll go into action again."

Harrison W. Call, attorney for the Baden Kennel Club, scoffed at the grand jury threats of indictments. He said:

"Indictments won't close the tracks, any more than the charges now pending against some of the operators have closed them. Only a restraining order can halt operations, and I don't believe it will be possible to get one. We plan to run out our season."

The season still has three weeks to go.

Poss issued the five-day ultimatum following a conference with Superior Judge Franklin Swart, who on Tuesday expressed an opinion that the track should be closed. The grand jury officials said their original purpose was not to seek a test case, but to definitely close the tracks. But Landini's raids, they said, have resulted in what amounts to a test case being thrown into the courts.

Sheriff James J. McGrath declared that if any one could show him a legal way to close the track he'd "camp at the gate with a shotgun." But until such a way is opened his hands are tied, he said.

The grand jury is scheduled to meet again Tuesday.

$17,000,000 WAGERED AT TWO KENNEL CLUBS

That the enormous figure of $17,000,000 was wagered by the betting public at the two dog tracks in San Mateo county in less than two years' time was the startling disclosure made today by the 1933 San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Books of the Bayshore Kennel Club, which operates the Belmont track, the first one to be established in the county, do not reveal the total cash played on the races, but show as income only the net percentage retained by the track.

This amounts to $1,270,700 from October 30, 1931, to July 31, 1933, the grand jury reports. This is the "take" from the betting public that Superior Judge Franklin Swart wanted the grand jury to determine.

The "take" represents 12½ per cent of the amount wagered, the jury reports, which would then make it appear that more than $10,000,000 has been wagered during the less than two-year period.

This would average about $38,650 per night, or $3865 per race. There are usually 10 races on each night's card.

Profit Is $294,000

The profit of the Bayshore Kennel Club for 263 nights since its inception is given by the grand jury as $294,000. Of this sum, $33,000 has been paid as income taxes to the federal government, leaving a net profit of $261,000 for the two-year period.

Dividends amounting to $257,375 have been paid to stockholders up to July 31, 1933; $60,000 of this has been paid during the current year, the jury reveals.

The Baden Kennel Club, operated on the same plan as the Belmont one, saw $5,787,000 wagered by the public in 151 racing days.

The two figures together make up the grand jury's estimate that approximately $17,000,000 has been wagered on the two tracks.

How Options Work

Details of how the option system is worked are set forth by the jury in its report. First, 12½ per cent and the "breaks" are retained by the "house" or management, the jury says. The 12½ per cent "retainer" is used for paying the "purses" to the owners of the various winning dogs, and all other overhead, including a certain percentage of profit.

The remaining 87½ per cent of the "pot" is then divided by the total number of winning options and goes back to the public.

In explaining the "breaks," the jury notes that only multiples of 10 are used in the calculation of the payoff.

For example, if the exact division of the "pot" should amount to say $4.49 for each winning option, only $4.40 is paid. The remaining nine cents are what is termed the "breaks" and are retained by the house in addition to the 12½ per cent already taken, which might bring the total "take" up to 13½ per cent or more, the jury reports.

It is estimated that perhaps 75 per cent of the patronage comes from outside the county, principally San Francisco, and the balance, or 25 per cent, comes from within the county.

Effects of Betting

"It is indisputable," says the jury, "what the existence of a dog racing track in our vicinity tempts a great many dollars that should go to pay the grocer, the butcher, the landlord, etc., but there are many other ways besides dog racing in which to gamble and there remains the question whether these same dollars would not be diverted to these other sources if no dog track existed.

The jury makes no attempt to determine the legality of the option system as "this can only be determined by the courts," it states. Such a test is now pending here, and will be opened Saturday.

Some quotations from the grand jury report on the dog tracks follow:

"The great extent to which dog racing has been carried on in San Mateo county has reached a point where an analysis should be made as to its effects on other lines of business, to determine whether or not there are any actual advantages to justify their continued operation.

"One may well realize that employes who patronize the track, night after night, with its attendant excitement and worry over continued losses, will eventually bring upon themselves such mental and physical strain as to make them unfit for their daily duties in whatever employment they may be engaged."

No Official Connected

The jury reports that no county officials are connected with the dog tracks, "although some members of their families are found to be employed."

Warning is sounded against the danger that track promoters may take an active interest in politics, and "that the effect of the gambling element upon our communities as a whole is undesirable and measures should be taken to prevent such activity."

Another matter dealing with the taking of money from the public touched upon by the grand jury is the presence of slot machines in the county with a suggestion that there be better vigilance by peninsula police officers.

Judge Favors Ban on Dogs Pending Trial

New Raids Threatened As Result of Jury Disclosures

Superior Judge Franklin Swart today expressed himself as favoring the closing of the Baden dog track and barring the re-opening of the Belmont track until the test case which opens Saturday has determined the legality or illegality of the option system.

The judge's comment was spurred by the disclosure Tuesday by the grand jury that $17,000,000 has been wagered at the two tracks in less than two years' time.

After scanning the grand jury report, which exposed startling facts about the so-called "option system" of betting and criticized operations at the racing establishments, Judge Swart stated he did not believe the plants should be allowed to continue play pending the outcome of the test cases.

"I do not believe in allowing people to defy the law like that," Judge Swart said. "If the tracks keep on operating while the decision as to the legality of the option system is still pending, Constable Landini should continue with his raids."

Landini today said he planned to begin raiding again, and that he would continue raiding until the tracks close down.

Track officials arrested in previous raids on the Baden club plant at South San Francisco are scheduled to appear in the Redwood City court on Saturday.

The grand jury report, denouncing dog racing, under the option system, as a "tremendous and constant drain on the community," estimated that at Baden alone patrons wagered a total of $5,700,000 in 151 nights.

The jury said that managers of the Belmont and Baden tracks took more than $1,000,000 out of $17,000,000 wagered as their "cut" in the betting.

Jury members said the track ran as high as 20 per cent.

The jury report recommended that "the district attorney use the power of his office to reopen this matter of option betting, disclose the missing link in this chain of events and thereby settle for once and for all the question of the legality of this issue."

GAVA DECREE ASKED

Victor Gava today asked a divorce from Alma Gava on the ground of cruelty. They were married in San Francisco on March 12, 1929, and separated on September 11, last.

COUNTY SHELTER PLANS DEFENDED BY MACAULEY

With about 100 unemployed men—"some of them life-long residents and reputable and decent people"—now homeless and with no fit place to live, Capt. Edward Macauley, director of emergency relief for San Mateo county, came to the defense today of plans to establish and enlarge a shelter at San Mateo.

The shelter, which would be located in the abandoned moving picture studios at San Mateo, has the support of the board of supervisors, but has been opposed by the San Mateo City Council and others.

"It is quite evident from the character of the objections," Captain Macauley declares, "that there is in the community a good deal of misunderstanding, both of the intentions of the relief committee and the proposed method of carrying them out."

Captain Maculey welcomed the opportunity to outline the proposed plans for the shelter; declaring:

"For the past 10 months, the emergency relief committee has endeavored, through public and private funds, to give any unemployed resident of the county sufficient work or direct relief to meet his emergency needs, and in addition the Red Cross has issued clothing, when required.

No Money for Rents

"It is obvious, however, that up to the present time it has been impossible for the relief organization to cover the payment of rents or purchase, mortgage and interest payments on homes—thus, families who have been unable to keep up such payments have in many cases lost their homes, and they, as do the single men or married men separated from their families under similar unfortunate circumstances, become homeless.

"The work relief alloted them is not sufficient to permit them to buy meals at restaurants. If they have no home, it is obvious they cannot prepare food, and, therefore, must suffer from inadequate nourishment as well as inadequate shelter."

This situation, according to Captain Macauley, was a serious problem last winter and some method of relieving the suffering must be found before the wet weather and another winter sets in, he said.

Grand Jury Report

The first report of the present San Mateo county grand jury was filed with Judge Swart on Wednesday. It differs but little from former reports. Many recommendations are made that probably will never be acted upon.

A large portion of the report pertains to dog racing in the county. The grand jury has gone into every detail concerning the tracks and in one breath the report praises the institutions and the next condemns them. However, as a whole it is a fair account of the business of dog racing.

The jury urges economy in conducting the Community Hospital. The institution has been an expensive part of the county government for years and a curb should be made in the outlay of vast sums that drain the funds and adds to the burdens of the taxpayer. This part of the report may be commended by every property owner.

Menlo Park

Rev. Father Thomas Kennedy returned last week from a trip to Chicago where he attended the fair. He was surprised at the immensity of the exhibits. The visitor from Menlo Park was proud of the California display. He asserted that it was the finest in the big show.

James Artino has returned to the Crystal Barber Shop after an absence of several years. His friends are pleased to see him back at the old stand.

Grand Trustee Speigelman of San Francisco officially visited Menlo parlor, N. S. G. W. Thursday evening last. A large membership greeted him. It was his first call on the parlor and by his splendid address left a decided impression. After adjournment refreshments were served in the lodge hall. Mr. Speigelman is serving his second term as grand trustee.

Mrs. Elmer Jennings of Atherton is expected home in about two weeks from Los Angeles, where she is visiting. She and Mrs. Mervyn O'Neil visited in Santa Barbara last week on their way south.

Interest among members of the Women's City Club of San Francisco, of whom there are two or three hundred in this vicinity, is centering on the annual Talent Festival of the club, which opened Wednesday and continued Thursday Miss Katherine Donohoe of Menlo Park, president of the club, is general chairman and will preside at the post-dinner programs. Flowers for the festival were being collected today from Palo Alto and Stanford campus members.

Local Company Takes Cement Case to Court

In an effort to prevent use by contractors of a high silica or so-called "pink" cement in concrete used for construction of the piers and fenders of the Golden Gate bridge, the Pacific Portland Cement Company today had taken its case before the San Francisco Superior Court.

The Pacific Portland company protests that on August 18, after it had furnished 32,000 barrels of cement under "Portland" specifications, Chief Engineer Joseph B. Strauss instructed that further deliveries be withheld.

It is alleged that subsequently the Golden Gate bridge directors by resolution authorized the general manager to investigate high silica cement with a view of substituting the higher water resistant for the specified Portland cement.

The complaint stresses a change in specifications for cement which is alleged to be adverse to the rights of the plaintiff company as prescribed in its contract.

Cement of a type over which the controversy rages is being used only in the construction of the south pier. The Pacific Portland company is still furnishing the "Portland" cement being used on the bridge. A possible 140,000 barrels out of between 450,000 and 500,000 barrels of cement is involved in the controversy.

The court is asked to void the alleged change in specifications for cement, to restrain the officers of the district from issuing warrants in payment of high silica cement manufactured by a concern headed by George T. Cameron, a bridge director.

The action is based largely upon a provision of the political code which holds that "members of the legislature, state, county, city and township officers must not be interested in any contract made by them in their official capacity or by any body or board of which they are members . . ." and that contracts made in violation of the law may be voided.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

Miss Dora Sibley of Sierra came to Redwood Wednesday to spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. F. C. Bomberg.

There were over one hundred city hunters on the marsh Thursday for the opening of duck season. Geo. Genochio brought in the first big bag, having 42. C. Hayward, Frank Granger, Carl Beeger and Joe Bullock went out on the yacht "Pet" to be present at the opening festivities of the duck season. They left orders with John Poole to have his dray in readiness at the wharf to bring their game home.

Judge Murasky, in a written communication yesterday to the attorneys in the Chatham-Mansfield election contest, said he would declare Chatham elected sheriff by one vote.

The Southern Pacific Company Monday began operating trains over its newly constructed double tracks between San Bruno and San Jose, a distance of 39 miles, which, with the stretch between the city and San Bruno, a distance of 12 miles, gives the company a double way down the coast of 51 miles.

Prof. Fait, a clever hypnotist, is running a three-night engagement at the Alhambra Theatre.

Gordon and Jack Bromfield, who were sophomores here last year, are now attending the San Mateo high school. Owing to the fact that San Mateo has shorter hours than the local institution, Miss Edna Goodhue is also going there. San Mateo's school has now a total of about thirty pupils.

Cyclist Near Death After Striking Man

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—William Holliday, 26, 1094 Hollister street, San Francisco, was in an unconscious condition at the South San Francisco Hospital today following injuries incurred in a freak accident last night on the Bayshore highway at Brisbane. Attending physicians gave him a bare chance for recovery.

The young San Franciscan was critically hurt when the motorcycle which he was riding struck Joe Sanchez, a pedestrian, of San Francisco, while the latter was walking north on the Bayshore.

Holliday incurred a fractured skull and farctured upper and lower jaw. Sanchez, 43, who was less seriously hurt, suffered a broken elbow, broken rbis and bruises.

Three Incur Injuries

Nikolai Saarines, 253 Miriam street, San Francisco, was at liberty today on $150 cash bail following his arraignment last night before Justice of the Peace Edward Farrell at South San Francisco on the charge of operating an automobile recklessly. Capt. Paul Perussina of the state highway patrol made the arrest.

Sarrines, police said, swerved his car through three lines of traffic on the Bayshore highway near the San Francisco municipal airport and struck two cars and injured three persons.

The allegedly reckless driver's sedan first struck another car operated by Frederick Cunha, 243 North Claremont street, San Mateo, and then ricocheted into a car driven by James Warren, 820 Jones street, San Francisco, with whom Miss Mary Barclay, 655 Cerritos street, San Francisco, was riding.

Cunha incurred lacerations of the scalp and face, Warren suffered contusions to the left leg and his companion, Miss Barclay a broken nose.

They were taken to the South San Francisco hospital for first aid. Although all three cars were demolished, Sarrines was virtually unhurt.

Hit-Run Death Trial Arranged For October 17

Madson will appear before Justice of the Peace Edward McAuliffe in Redwood City. He has refused to answer questions put to him by District Attorney Edmund Scott, and has not confessed nor denied his part in the hit-run deaths, Scott said.

Grand Jurors Suggest Lower Hospital Costs

Because of a showing that the Community Hospital has given care to patients not entitled to free entry, the San Mateo County Grand Jury Tuesday recommended that "admissions to the hospital except in emergency cases be confined strictly to destitute and semi-destitute bonafide residents of San Mateo county."

"We believe," said the jury, "that such restrictions on admissions will tend to keep the county hospital 'out of politics.'"

Praise is paid to the hospital staff for the conditions which exist there. "Our investigation," said the jury, "has shown that patients receive the very best of car, equal to or perhaps better than in many other hospitals. It is clean and wholesome and a delightful atmosphere pervades."

The jury disapproves any attempts, however, to make the county hospital a competitor of private institutions, according to its report.

Amounts Collected

Concerning the hospital, the jury says further:

"The total hospital charges against patients for the fiscal year was $134,600. The actual amount collected against these charges was $15,688, which included $4623 subsidies from the state for care of tubercular patients. Approximately 90 per cent of patients leave the hospital without any payment, even though records show some payment could have been made. In surgical and obstetrical cases partial payment could be made before treatment.

"We strongly recommend that collection of the actual charges against the patient for treatment and maintenance be enforced at the hospital. Endeavor should also be made to collect outstanding unpaid charges to date.

"We believe that the cost of the Community Hospital to the county of San Mateo is excessive, and, therefore:

"We recommend that a careful study be made of the hospital, its personnel and management, looking toward a reduction of this cost."

The jury, however, reports itself against the plan to appoint a business manager for the hospital, and also against the appointment of an executive head for the social service department.

County Funds Low For State Election

When Gov. James Rolph Jr. issued a proclamation calling a special election for December 19 on the huge central valley water project, he did not reckon on counties over the state being hard-pressed for funds.

San Mateo county, County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman told the supervisors Monday, has no money for the election. Hinman suggested that the election costs could be materially reduced by consolidating the precincts.

The board will decide whether to do this or not at the next meeting. The election, which ordinarily would cost about $15,000, must be paid for out of the $5,000 unbudgeted reserve fund.

"Same place, Joe —Bank of America"

That's the answer you hear everywhere. From business executives who like a big bank with complete banking facilities. From traveling men who like the bank with statewide branches. From doctors and lawyers and merchants—from mechanics, plumbers and painters—from business women and housewives—from all comes the reply, "Bank of America".

Bank Advertising Honors Captured

California newspapers in 1933 published the best bank advertising in the United States and Canada. The award of first place among all bank advertisers in the United States and Canada for the twelve months which ended October 1, 1933, was made to the Bank of America, which places the preponderance of its advertising copy with 325 daily and weekly newspapers throughout the entire state of California.

The award is made by "Socrates," advertising critic of the Century-Standard- Vincent Edwards Company of New York, publisher of the Bank-Ad Views. Ratings for the award are conducted on a monthly basis and the Bank of America reached first place in the competition several months ago, increasing its lead over its competitors until the conclusion of the year.

The competition for this signal honor in the advertising field is keenly sought by more than 200 banks in the United States. Newspaper advertising copy of the Bank of America is prepared by Charles R. Stuart.

Injured Ranch Owner Has Kin In San Carlos

Hugh Jewett, on whose ranch near Arvin a gun battle occurred yesterday in the strike zone, is a nephew of Mrs. John Farnum of San Carlos.

The gun battle ensued when a regiment of picketeers, armed with guns, clubs and heavy stones, appeared on Jewett's property and attacked strike-breaking pickers. One man was shot to death.

Jewett interferred and was shot, according to reports from the strike zone. He was taken to the county hospital at Bakersfield.

County to Continue Coyote Eradication

Stockmen of this and other areas won their plea before the board of supervisors Monday that the county continue its work in eradicating coyotes, wild cats and other predatory animals.

Frank Isidoro, local stockman, by letter and in a personal appearance asked the supervisors to continue to assist the United States Bureau of Biology in the work of eradication. County Agriculture Commissioner Max Leonard also gave his support.

Wire Confirms Negro's Story Of Slaying

Obie Sailors, 24, Negro, is wanted for murder, James J. McGrath, sheriff of San Mateo county was notified in a wire from T. O. Sturdivant, chief of police, Atlanta, Georgia, today.

Sailors, under the name of Jake Wakefield, is being held in the county jail in Redwood City on charges of disturbing the peace and resisting an officer. His apprehension followed an automobile accident Sunday on the Bayshore highway at Nineteenth avenue, San Mateo.

Sturdivant's wire said: "Hold Obie Sailors. Wanted for murder. Officers will leave here tomorrow with extradition papers."

Sailors was arrested when he attempted to fight Captain Paul Perussina of the county traffic patrol after his companion, Mrs. Amantha McAllister, 24, Negress, of 1850 Leslie street, San Mateo, was arrested for drunken driving after her automobile collided with one driven by Jack Brown, 32, of 3370 Army street, San Francisco.

It was while Sailors, alias Wakefield, was being brought back to the Redwood City jail after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Percy Jackson that the Negro made his confession.

According to Sailors' story he murdered another Negro in a pool room brawl at Atlanta, September 17, 1932.

Boy Extortionist Put on Probation

William Talbot, 14-year-old San Bruno schoolboy who admitted two weeks ago that he was the author of a $5,000 extortion letter, today was released on probation after spending two weeks in the San Mateo county juvenile home.

The release was ordered by Superior Judge Franklin Swart, who gave the boy a court hearing behind closed doors. His married sister, Mrs. J. R. Zimmerman of San Bruno, was named custodian.

The letter was addressed to U. C. Larson, San Francisco garage owner. It threatened death to Larson's children unless $5,000 was left in a designated place. The boy fled when the note was turned over to police, but was found later in a camp occupied by itinerant men.

Body of Boy Is Recovered In Mills Lake

SAN BRUNO, Oct. 9.—The body of Eugene Giannini, 15-year-old San Bruno boy, who was drowned Thursday night in Mills Lake near Millbrae, was recovered today while officers were dragging the lake bottom. It floated to the surface of the water. The remains were taken to the Nieri Funeral parlors in South San Francisco.

More than 3,000,000 gallons of water in a reservoir on the Mills Estate at San Bruno had been drawn off Sunday in an effort to find the body of the boy.

Volunteer firemen under Mayor E. J. Maguire of San Bruno directed the work. The boy's father, John, and others continued a search of brush and canyons about the lake in the belief the boy suffered a fainting spell and failed to recover. The boy had been subject to such attacks, the father said.

State Highway Widening Will Hinge on Funds

State highway authorities are willing to confer with a representative San Mateo county committee relative to widening the state highway between this city and San Mateo, according to word received today by the chamber of commerce of the latter city.

Because of increase in commodity prices, many bids are exceeding the estimates, and to date this has totalled $225,000 above the engineer's figures. It was pointed out by Harry A. Hopkins, chairman of the state highway commission, that it is unlikely that funds can be secured from savings made in the engineer's estimates of work already allotted.

There is a slight possibility of getting additional money through the gas tax.

Have mercy on your stomach....
Cook with CRISCO—it digests quickly

Anne, why'd you buy Crisco? I have plenty of my shortening on hand.
Oh, Mother, I want to make rhubarb pie for Dad tonight—he loves it!
MOTHER SCOLDS ANNE

You know your father has indigestion when he eats pie.
But, Mother, the shortening may be the trouble. In cooking class today, Miss Abbott told us Crisco is often used in diets because it's so wholesome.
ANNE'S TAKING DOMESTIC SCIENCE!

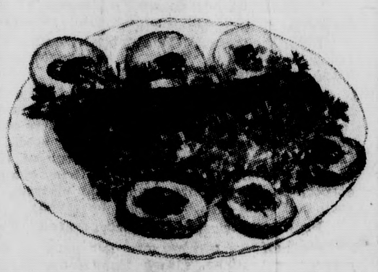
Take this, John—you'll need it to settle your stomach after eating so much pie.
Mother, I told you! Dad can eat Crisco pie-crust. Crisco is a quick-digesting fat!
No, ma'am, I haven't had a bit of trouble.
DAD SAYS ANNE'S RIGHT!

You don't need to take the joy out of eating in order to protect your digestion. You can gladly say "yes" to wholesome Crisco pies and crispy Crisco-fried foods! Yes, they can be good for you—because Crisco is the digestible vegetable shortening that doesn't over-burden your stomach.

Most every day something is fried in your house. Is it grease-soaked and hard to digest—or is it brown and crispy the way Crisco-fried foods are? Crisco can be heated higher—so it seals food quickly in toasty brown—which prevents fat from soaking into the food. That's why Crisco-fried foods digest quickly!

But let your common sense tell you. Look at Crisco—see how it piles up like thick country cream on a spoon! Taste its sweetness. Why, there's nothing like Crisco, because Crisco is made from digestible vegetable oils by its own secret process!

When you buy Crisco, look for the familiar blue-and-white label. Crisco's vacuum-sealed can is a health-protection to you.



YANKEE HASH

3 tablespoons Crisco
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup milk or water
2 cups chopped corned beef (cooked)
2 cups cubed boiled potatoes

Melt Crisco in frying pan. Add onion. Brown slightly. (Crisco is a digestible frying fat.) Mix other ingredients. Add to onions. Mix thoroughly. Then spread out evenly. Cook slowly. As bottom browns, keep lifting and cutting it in, so that crusty bits are worked through hash. Just before removing from skillet, fold hash over like an omelet. Serve with—

Fried Apple Rings: Select 2 or 3 large perfect cooking apples. Cut into ½ inch slices. Core. Melt 3 tablespoons Crisco in skillet. When hot, add apple rings. Fry on both sides until nicely browned. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Fill centers with jelly.

Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by the Procter & Gamble Co.

CRISCO Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. digests quickly

At the Tribune-Standard-Beacon Cooking School conducted October 24, 25, 26 and 27, Miss Hester Heath uses and recommends CRISCO, the modern, quick-digesting shortening.

Former Student in Two Suicide Tries

PALO ALTO, Oct. 12.—Ramon S. Wilson, former Stanford student, made two unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide in an airplane shortly before his arrest on fictitious check charges, it was revealed today by Lieutenant John Preston, former football star and army aviator.

According to Preston, Wilson approached him yesterday and asked to take his plane up, explaining he had a flying license on the way here from the east. When the pair went up in a dual-controlled ship, Wilson's flying was so erratic Preston became alarmed and brought the ship down.

Preston later consented to 15 more minutes in the air during which, he said, Wilson twice tried to dive the plane, and when the aviator landed, attempted to wreck it by jamming the rudder bar.

The Hollywood Cricket Club defeated four San Francisco teams in one week-end with Desmond Roberts making a record of 163 runs against one opposing team.

All persons who are interested in hiking are invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by telephoning to Elmo A. Robinson.
